

How small and how big can living things be?

Left of the cell line sit parts of life (molecules, viruses) that cannot copy themselves alone.